Another Googler from the Communications team has just tendered his resignation - his name is [REDACTED], he's a [REDACTED]. Elliot has offered him head of corporate. I spent a long time with him yesterday - and we have offered him different roles and discussed his future at Google, as he is very good I have made very positive noises. I believe I have gone as far as I can without making promises about pay or title that would cause significant problems across my team (and are not mine to make) and propose to not fight any longer. If anyone disagrees let me know.
